

The Bar T Mustang Project

By Jimmy Thomas, Wild Horse and Burr Trainer, Pittsboro, NC, United States

Welcome to The Bar T Mustang Project. I have, along with 100 other people across the nation, been selected by the Mustang Heritage Foundation (MHF) to compete in the “Extreme Mustang Makeover”. I have three months to accomplish a lot of tasks.

I'm a transformed horse trainer, I've gone from the "Get a bigger rope" to now, "Get a softer rope". I believe in natural horsemanship, which means that I do not use aggressive techniques with horses. I will be training the mustang using patience and respect. If you have interest in Mustangs and would like to share experiences with me or offer your advice you can contact me thebartranch@gmail.com.

A picture chronicle of Medicine Man

This water business might be pretty cool!

Mmmmmmm. Tasty!

So, Wilbur, how 'bout a drink!

Medicine Man donning the surcingle.

Cinching up for the first time, with little response.

Finally, a reaction! Even if short-lived.

Prepping for boarding...

Thatta Boy!

Doc . . . an 'old hat has this trailer stuff down!

"Let me see what this trailer is all about..."

Getting ready to head up the mountain.

"I don't see any Mountain Lions..."

What a view!

Posted by Jimmy Thomas

Posted by Jimmy Thomas

<http://thebartmustangproject.blogspot.com/>

- <http://www.wildhorseandburro.blm.gov>
- <http://www.mustangheritagefoundation.org>